Plant Lore Legend & More - Fall 1996

PUBLISHED QUARTERLY BY THE CALIFORNIA ARBORETUM FOUNDATION

A non-profit corporation benefiting THE ARBORETUM of Los Angeles County

The European Influence, reflects a wide range of interpretation, as designers and exhibitors strive to bring their shared values and diverse experiences to THE ARBORETUM on October 23 through October 27 for The 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show.

Many European countries will be in evidence through displays and wares geared toward reflecting the European influence on American gardening, as well as design and style, that prevails upon every facet of life in the United States. Whether under the influence of Spanish Moss or the clothes and fragrances of Coco Chanel, Americans have patterned their gardens, houses, fashions, cars and furniture on the European experience.

Visitors will enjoy the Royal Rose Gallery showcasing top floral designers presenting tributes to European Royalty who have had roses named in their honor. Curator Jan Weverka promises extraordinary displays presented by Rosarians throughout Southern California.

More than 20 Style Gardens are expected to astound guests as landscape designers present gardens and outdoor and Vegetable Gardens features a variety of cooking demonstrations.

The Hat Gallery, new this year, celebrates the milliner with an array of designer garden hats. Curator Michael Anketell has obtained such designer stars as Bill Blass to design hats that are available for auction at the opening Gala Garden Party and on display throughout the Show.

THE 1996 LOS ANGELES GARDEN SHOW Gardens of Our World environments from European countries. Tablescapes created by leading designers depict lifestyle settings and feature fine china and decor from Robinsons•May, a presenting sponsor of the Show.

Strolling through the MarketPlace and PlantMarket you will see reflections of European countries as you browse the many innovative gardens and home related items presented by exhibitors from around the country. Lectures, seminars and demonstrations in gardening run continuously throughout the five-day Show, all with close attention to the European theme. The Cooking Pavilion in HarvestHill, which also contains the FarmersMarket, Herb

Another addition to the Show is the Waterford Collection featuring 15 one-of-a-kind vases, individually signed, containing unique flower arrangements created by Southern California floral designers.

The 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show provides an almost unlimited garden of experience in things European, enhanced with the polish that only Americans can apply.

The 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show is produced by the California Arboretum Foundation as a benefit for THE ARBORETUM of Los Angeles County. Presenting Sponsors are Robinsons•May and The Los Angeles Times. ♦♦

Foundation Members Invited to Gala Garden Party

Be among the first to view the 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show that opens to the public on Wednesday, October 23 for a five-day run.

Come to the Gala Garden Party, Tuesday, October 22, beginning at 3 p.m. with a Promenade of the nine-acre Show where Gala Guests will experience each element without crowds, including shopping in the MarketPlace and PlantMarket, and basking in the glorious Tablescapes produced by such designers as Kate & Oden Stamps, Tom Beeton, Andrew Virtue and Don Earnstein.

Garden Show Chairs Robert and Beverly Cohen and the Gala Garden Party Committee promise a fabulous evening everyone will enjoy.

Beginning at 5:30 p.m., cocktails will be served on the South Lawn at the Gala Tent with supper at 7 p.m. Entertainment (be prepared for a surprise) will continue until 9 p.m.

In Celebration of the Milliner, the Gala Garden Party committee, with Robinson•May, plans a silent auction featuring one-of-a-kind Garden Hats by well-known designers Bill Blass, Oscar de la Renta and many more, where some lucky party goers will take possession of a hat that will be on display throughout the show in The Theatre of Hats Gallery, and delivered to the new owner immediately after the close of the Show.

Members of the Gala committee include Gayle Anderson, Ginger Bernard, Monty Lindsey, Veva McKee, Helen and Jerry Stathatos and Carol McVay.

Reservations for the Gala Garden Party may be made for $100 per person by completing the Los Angeles Garden Show Ticket Order Form on page eleven. For more information call the Foundation office at 818-447-8207 or call the show information line 818-294-2059.

Be one of the first to see the 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show. We look forward to seeing you at the Gala Garden Party!

The Gala Garden Party is a fundraiser to benefit the California Arboretum Foundation.

The California Arboretum Foundation would like to thank presenting sponsors Robinson•May and The Los Angeles Times for their continued support and generous contributions to the 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show.

Fill up on Fall at The Arboretum

The 1996 Los Angeles Garden Show is our major Fall undertaking, and we hope you plan to attend ... and place your ticket orders in time to enjoy the special price offered only to CAF members. You might even consider becoming a Garden Show Guild volunteer for one-half day, and meander through the show the rest of the day, free of charge!

Beyond the 9 acres and 5 days of Garden Show excitement, the Fall months are a wonderful time of year to visit THE ARBORETUM. Take in the Tropical Greenhouse, or stroll through the Tropical Forest to note the growth of its plantings since its opening more than one year ago. Observe the palette of colors in the Kallam Garden, or the many improvements in the Herb Garden. Take home a favorite herb on sale in the Gift Store's Plant Shop.

Peruse the many class and lecture topics listed in the calendar section ... dynamic teachers, eager students, the potential of new friends and interests. Take a tram ride for the fun of it, and see the Garden through the eyes of the driver. You might discover something you didn't know before.

What's new in the Garden for All Seasons? The volunteers who tend this lively area are constantly replacing the flowers and vegetables with new material. And, speaking of vegetables, have you checked out our children's educational garden, Roots and Shoots? The students who participate in this curriculum work hard to bring seeds and seedlings to maturity, while also learning about composting, worms, birdlife, turtles, and other Arboretum features. Their enthusiasm is tremendous and inspirational. The group of fourth graders from the Evergreen Avenue School in Boyle Heights who participated in Roots and Shoots during the 1995-96 year wrote to the upcoming fourth graders about the wonderful experience they would have at Roots and Shoots. Excerpts from these letters convey the joy of their experience:

"I would recommend Roots and Shoots ... I liked when I got to put my hands in the soil to flatten it ..."

"You are going to have your own garden ... plant, water, and eat the vegetables... You are going to have a 'Stir Fry' party with Chef Jim ... a story teller named Laurel ... you get to work with a wheelbarrow .. and make scarecrows ..."

there are turtles and lots of ponds and peacocks ... we had a butterfly garden"

"You get to plant, weed, and do wood chips ... please respect the garden and everything in the Arboretum. Don't litter. Take good care of all the things around, especially the animals and insects, and don't feed the peacocks and the peahens... I will surely miss going there. P.S. Keep it clean and green!"

The CAF Welcomes New Membership Manager Beth Monaghan

Responsible for a membership of more than 3,000, Beth Monaghan joins the Foundation staff as Membership Manager. Beth has experience as a civil litigation reporter, legal publications editor, caretaker of a 160-acre ranch in New Mexico and several years as a member of a California Floral designing team. These positions serve to spirit her interest in promoting THE ARBORETUM as a whole, and membership in the California Arboretum Foundation in particular. 🌹

The Eternal Rose

by Jan Weverka

Roses have been used to glorify women, tables, floors, entrances and paintings all throughout antiquity. For instance, when Venus, the Roman goddess of love, was born in the foaming seas near the island of Cyprus, the earth eager to show that it could equal the gods in the creation of beauty, fashioned a flower unparalleled in its exquisite combination of delicacy and fragrance.

The rose has been an enduring and universal symbol of passion and devotion. It has been worshiped by Greeks, Romans, Persians, Chinese and Arabians. Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love, chose it as her personal emblem. Cleopatra is said to have soaked the sails of her ship with rose water so that as she departed from Antony, the very winds would be lovesick.

Confucius was inspired by the roses growing in China's Imperial Gardens, and the Phoenicians, who revered the flower, brought rose bushes with them on their travels. In the fifth century B.C., 102 different images of roses appeared on the coins of Rhodes, whose citizens had made it the symbol of their city.

So, if you have a passion for roses, you have history to support you. The earliest written mention of the rose appears on Sumerian tablets inscribed some 5,000 years ago. And here I am continuing to inspire you to tend your gardens, pick flowers for arrangements, begin your shopping list now for new bare root roses for next January, and to also prepare your garden beds.

With this in mind, I also encourage you to attend the Los Angeles Garden Show this October at THE ARBORETUM. You will see a plethora, a superfluity, an abundance of modern available roses named for royalty, arranged in a most pleasing manner in the Royal Rose Gallery. These cut garden roses will all be identified for you. Bring your notebook and pen and begin your wish list. 🌹

Jan Weverka is the curator of the Royal Rose Gallery for the Los Angeles Garden Show and will be available for questions daily on organic gardening with roses and their companions. She will be located at the Victorian Wedding Style Garden wearing one of her famous outrageous hats.

Art Gallery Comes to the Gift Shop

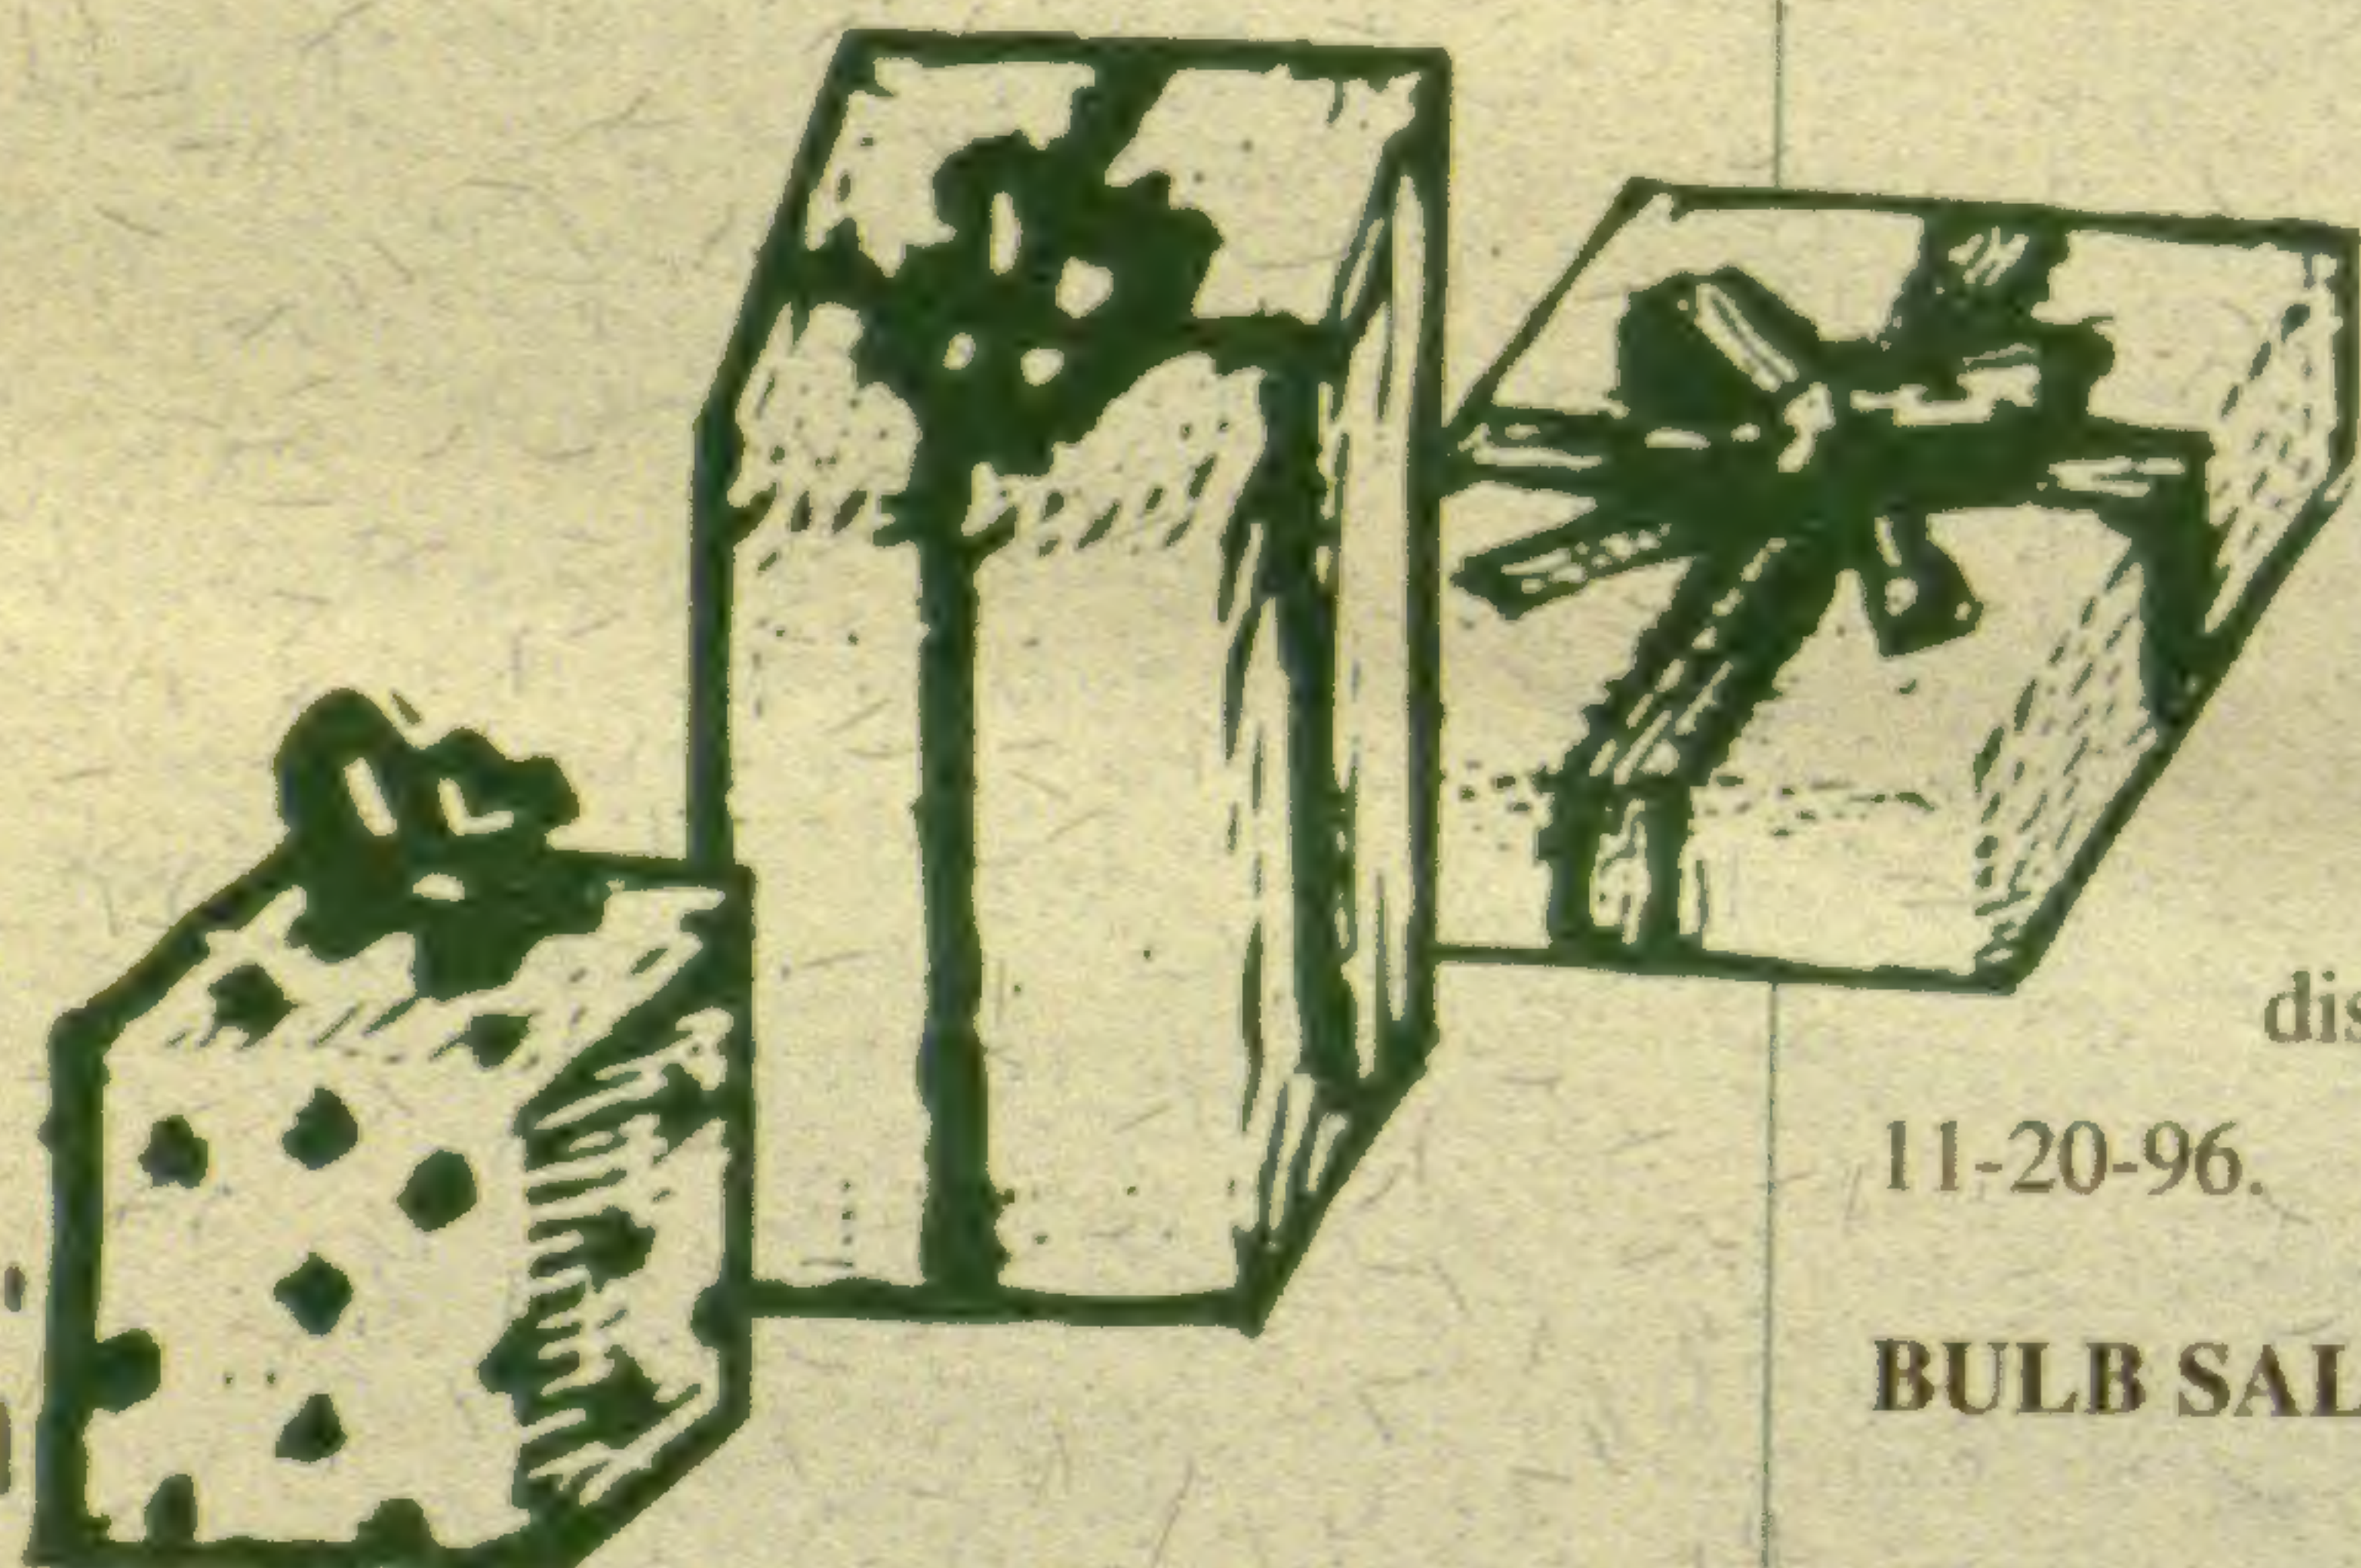

Soon to be a new and exciting feature at the Gift Shop is its own Art Gallery. Wall and floor space has been allocated to showcase some of our talented local artisans. We will also be showing the many art works done by our students who are taking classes here at THE ARBORETUM.

Our first exhibit entitled "BIRDS OF THE ARBORETUM" is a display of photographs by award-winning photographer Lynn Shephard. The photo exhibit will run daily from September 15th to October 30th, 10am to 5pm. Mark your calendars, you won't want to miss this exciting exhibit.

Check your Arboretum News for dates and times on upcoming exhibits.

REMEMBER.... "A GIFT FROM THE ARBORETUM IS A GIFT TO THE ARBORETUM"

The last we met I was leaving for the continent to meet with Penelope, Hubert and a few others who are interested in the Los Angeles Garden Show. Talk about the 5,000 mile garden! I flew back on the Concorde and met the most fabulous people. They will all be at the Show October 23-27. Back home my first stop was just a flutter past my pea chicks, and then off to meet Show chairs, Robert and Beverly Cohen at their wonderful (and very European) Four Seasons Hotel. Beverly and Bob, full of news about the Gala Garden Promenade and party, Tuesday, October 22, and all other elements of the Show with its very European flavor. Just a quick flyover to see Helen and Jerry Stathatos, who are enjoying every minute of their work on the Gala, and our protocol advisors, Ginger Barnard and Gayle Anderson. Gayle is in Orange County, but it doesn't seem to affect her at all. Landing at THE ARBORETUM my heart was full because of the reception given to me at Tour and Taste. People in groups just always rise up and greet me when I arrive. That and the combination of Twilight on the Terrace was almost too much for me, but I'm still dancing as fast as I can. And I know that all of my faithful readers joining me in support of The Foundation, are dancing right along with me. 🌸
